

Word-of-Knowledge Stream

As I pen these words I am gushing with a mighty stream of the word of knowledge . . . Oh hallelujah to God!

I am like a dam that's ready to burst and flood the parched and thirsty plain below with life-giving streams of living water. I can't hold it back any longer. . . keeka lata maca lumba...

...There's a middle-aged lady with lower back issues named "Betty"... It so happens that this copy of Feema Life has made its way into your hands... It's not coincidence, Betty. It's God! Place your hand over my picture at the top of this page and release your faith. Healing is yours for the taking! Amen and amen.

...I see a red and black, lumber-jack shirt and a pack of cigarettes and a man that's reading these words who's been diagnosed with cancer. Brother! This is your appointment with destiny! Sheeka la caroto! Flush those cigarettes down the toilet and receive your healing this very minute! Claim it! It's yours!

...Kenny's gonna be alright, Sister! God just spoke to me and told me Kenny's gonna be alright! Quit your fretting and start praising the Lord for the answer right now, Honey! Hallelujah!

...You in the dark green slacks getting ready to go to town! You've been spiritually fed watching the "Hour of Sweet Anointing" for years and you've never sent one red cent to help support Dr. Brother Bob. You wonder why you just can't make ends meet... I'll tell you why, Sister! It's because you're withholding from God! You wanna get that man of yours saved? God says you need to act right now and sow a seed in faith and expect to receive your harvest press down, shaken together, and running over! Amen and amen.

...There's a man in his thirties named...it starts with a J... Jinal... Janil... Jamil... Jamal... something like that... Your wife's left you for another man and your contemplating ending it all... Brother, God is talking to you right now as you read these words! Let her go! God's got something better for you! Amen! Start thanking him for the gift that's coming your way, Brother!

...Steve, you've been engaging in sodomitic activity and the Lord's been telling you it's wrong, but you haven't been listening. You need to stop now, lest a worse thing come upon thee. It's time to repent and get right with God. You're gonna have to stop hanging out in those places, Steve. You'll never learn to like veggies if all you ever eat is fruit. Satan's a liar!

...I see an alcoholic woman wearing a gray-colored sweat-shirt, sitting in her living room reading these words. Get up from where you're sitting and pour out every last drop of that Devil's drink into the john, Sister. That's right! Do it now and find yourself a real Bible-believing church where you think they preach the Full Gospel.

...Sally in the white blouse and bluejeans, God's showing me that he's seen your tears and you're on the verge of reaping a harvest of joy. Stay in there, Sister! Victory's around the bend!

...God's healing liver disease right now as I right these words... In fact, if you'll lay your hand over this paragraph the power of God's gonna shoot right through you and heal you completely as you release your faith and receive the answer. Amen and amen!

...There's an oriental man named Ling or Jing or Ming or something like that... You've got a growth on your left side and if you'll release your faith right now, you're gonna see that thing dissolve before your very eyes! Oh hallelujah!

Thank you, Jesus! What a mighty anointing! Bless God, I had planned to write about singing in the Spirit, but as I picked up the pen, the power of God hit me and the Word of Knowledge began to flow in a mighty stream of glory! And who was I to resist God?

You know, the Word of Knowledge can function anywhere, at any time. One dear sister in our church regularly functions in the Word of Knowledge in the home as she ministers to her sixteen-year-old teenage son, warning him not to yield to certain fleshly temptations. She told me about three weeks ago that there are times when God tells her to go knock on the bathroom door and ask her son if he'd be doing what he's doing if Jesus were there.

That mother said that last year, the Lord directed her to check his backpack where she found a photo inappropriate for a Christian youngster to be viewing. You can parent better

"...as I picked up the pen, the power of God hit me and the Word of Knowledge began to flow in a mighty stream of glory!"

when the Word of Knowledge is flowing freely in your life and ministry. Amen. When young people are faced with so much temptation these days, what parent would dare rear a child without the full flow of the Word of Knowledge?

The other day I was standing in line at the post office and God told me to turn around and tell the lady behind me in line that she needed to give Jaime a call on the phone. At first, I hesitated, but finally, I followed the leading of God and did it.

"Ma'am," I said, "God just spoke to me and he told me that you need to give Jaime a call. She needs to talk with you."

At first, the woman looked at me with a look of befuddlement. Then she stared over my right shoulder as if searching through the archives of her mind to locate a particular file till suddenly a spark of recognition lit up her face. "Jaime? Oh yes!

Jaime Nichols! I'll track her down and give her a call." The woman thanked me and I turned back around just as it came my turn to step up to the window.

Brother, Sister, you need the Word of Knowledge functioning in your life. Be open to it. Let it happen any way, anyhow, anywhere. Let go and let God have His way with you. Release that stream and let it flow unhindered by shame, doubt, or social convention. Amen. ☐
